Swim Center Opens Today

SANTA CLARA — The world's finest swim team moves into the world's most modern aquatic complex this morning.

Santa Clara Swim Club, which has become the most successful organization in swimming annals despite the use of only the 25-yard War Memorial pool, today holds its first practice session at the new International Swim Center, the spacious $700,000 facility built by the City of Santa Clara.

First major event in the Center will be the International Invitational Swim Meet July 7-8-9. Tickets for the widely-heralded three-day spectacular are on sale throughout the Central Coast area.
